

HEM-Virtues

A Learning Revolution

E-VALUE PORTAL (शिक्षा से समग्रता की ओर)

HEMA Foundation has been working relentlessly for reinstating and reestablishing values in our society for the last 5 years. HEMA Foundation has been able to reach out to many students through thousands of schools, colleges, universities across the Nation and Global.

To achieve its mission, HEMA Foundation has structured a network of all stakeholders from society, academia and authorities to implement syllabus, impart training and arrange workshops for the upliftment of values in society. Continuing with its mission, HEMA Foundation has launched a portal to serve society at the larger level. This portal is being prepared to meet demands and requirements of modern day needs of our academic institutions, social organization, corporate houses and regulatory agencies.

HEM-Virtues is aimed to be placed in the hands of educators, school administrators and teachers who have been asking for a workable framework that contains a clear picture of how to carry out education for values in schools. HEM-Virtues serves as a blueprint to help school personnel to improve their understanding and practices in providing education for the holistic development of the students in a more systematic and focused way.

The approach of HEM-Virtues portal has been to amalgamate our education with values. The fundamental assumption is that values are inherent in education. It is not possible to impart value education separately from the processes and orientations of other parts of the school system. It is more integrated to the educational process as a whole, the better will be the outcome of imparting values. The framework subsumes that value education has to be a planned effort by the school to nurture core universal values held upmost by our Constitution. Value education helps to provide a road map to guide children and youth along a route to live a life based on moral principles which are important both in the individual as well as collective context.

After rigorous consultations and deliberations with more than hundred of academicians, authorities and an experience of last 5 years with lacs of students across country. It aims to cater to the comprehensive requirements of any HEM-Virtues educational institute, in which separate sections cater to the needs of students, teachers, administrations, management committees and regulating agencies.

HEM-Virtues has been categorized in the following sections which have been well-calibrated and aligned with each other in a bid to serve the larger purpose of academics and values.

1. Movie section: Based on the recommendation of NCERT and CBSE guidelines on values in academics, HEMA Foundation has prepared 48 professionally designed movies that very immaculately collaborates with values prescribed according to age and classes of students.
